

PATRICK CHUNG

Partner
New Enterprise Associates

Fellows Class 9

Professional

Patrick is co-head of NEA's Seed-stage investing practice and founding partner of NEA and Harvard's Experiment Fund (www.xfund.com). He is a director of 23andMe, Curalate, Euclid, Lytro, Pulse, and Recce, and is actively involved with Carezone, Fantasy Shopper, IFTTT, Rock Health, Tivli, and Zumper. Prior to joining NEA, Patrick helped to grow ZEFER, an Internet services firm (acquired by NEC) to more than $100 million in annual revenues and more than 700 people across six global offices. Prior to ZEFER, Patrick was with McKinsey & Company, where he specialized in hardware, software, and services companies.

Education/Personal

Patrick received a joint JD-MBA degree from Harvard Business School and Harvard Law School, where he served as an Editor of the Harvard Law Review. Patrick was a Commonwealth Scholar at Oxford University, where he earned a Master of Science degree. Patrick earned his A.B. degree at Harvard University in Environmental Science. He is a member of the New York and Massachusetts bars, and a member of the Committee to Visit Harvard College.

Fellowship

A member of Class 9, Patrick completed his fellowship at NEA under mentor Peter T. Morris. Patrick is also a mentor for Sujay Jaswa, a member of Fellows Class 13.

JOSH STEIN

Managing Director
Draper Fisher Jurvetson

Fellows Class 9

Professional

Josh Stein is a Managing Director of Draper Fisher Jurvetson, where his current board responsibilities include Box, Chartbeat, Fynanz, Polaris Wireless, and SugarCRM. He is also actively involved with the firm's investments in Glam Media, Opscode, Path, Redfin, and Tremor Video. His previous investments include GoodGuide (acquired by UL), iList (acquired by IGN/News Corp), Yammer (acquired by Microsoft), and Yardbarker (acquired by Fox Sports Interactive).

Prior to joining DFJ, Josh was a Vice President at Telephia, where he managed a group providing strategic analysis and information to the nation's largest wireless carrier. Previously, Josh was a co-founder, Director and the Chief Strategy Officer for ViaFone (NYSE:SY), a DFJ portfolio company and a leading provider of wireless enterprise applications. Josh has previously held positions in product management at Microsoft and NetObjects, and was a management consultant in the San Francisco office of The Boston Consulting Group.

Josh holds a BA from Dartmouth College, an MBA from the Stanford University Graduate School of Business and is a graduate of the Kauffman Fellows Program. He currently serves on the board of directors of the Center for Venture Education and the Kauffman Fellows Program, the leading educational fellowship in venture capital.

Fellowship

Josh is a member of Kauffman Fellows Class 9, and completed his fellowship under mentor Tim Draper at DFJ. Josh served as a mentor to Josh Raffaelli, Class 13.

PASCAL LEVENSOHN

Managing Partner & Founder
Levensohn Venture Partners

CEO
Generation Strategic Advisors LLC

Mentor Class 14

Professional/Education

Pascal Levensohn is the Chief Executive Officer of Generation Strategic Advisors LLC and the Managing Partner of Levensohn Venture Partners LLC. For over 16 years, Generation and its predecessor affiliates have provided specialized strategic advisory solutions in the area of illiquid alternative investments to a select group of very high net worth families and institutions. LVP is a San Francisco-based early stage venture capital firm that Mr. Levensohn founded in 1996. Pascal advises international venture capital funds and institutions on strategy and has recently joined the founding team of a new Bay Area technology company that is currently in stealth mode. Pascal is a former director of the National Venture Capital Association (NVCA, 2007-2011), where he served as the chairman of the NVCA's Education Committee for three years.

A native of Puerto Rico who is fluent in French and Spanish, Pascal is a graduate of Harvard University (1981) with a degree in Government. He is a member of the Council on Foreign Relations.

Pascal has been actively involved with the Aspen Institute since 1997. He has been a guest lecturer at the Harvard Law School, and has lectured in Asia at Beijing University, Renmin University of China, and the Cheung Kong Graduate School of Business, as part of its Distinguished Speakers Series. He is a frequently published contributor to national newspapers & trade publications in the venture capital industry.

He is the principal author of three authoritative white papers on venture capital board governance best practices and is the co-author of the undergraduate textbook, 风险投资学 (Venture Capital: Theory and Practice), with Prof. Liu Manhong (Mannie Liu) of Renmin University of China (2011), the first book of its kind to be published in China in Chinese.

DAVE WHORTON

Founder and Managing Partner
Tugboat Ventures

Professional/Education

After earning a BS in Mechanical Engineering from the University of California at Berkeley and an MBA from Stanford's Graduate School of Business, Dave found his way to Kleiner Perkins Caufield & Byers and Texas Pacific Group Ventures, where he developed and incubated numerous successful investments. In 2003, Dave led the Series B financing of Successfactors and served on the board from then until 2011. During that period, Successfactors grew from $1MM in SAAS revenues to over $200M in revenues and increased in enterprise value by 150x. Other notable early stage investments that Dave either led or worked closely with include Amazon.com, Autotrader, Blue Nile, Business Signatures, Cranium, E.piphany, Google, Stella & Dot and Wedding Channel. Throughout, Dave was mentored by some of the best in the business, including Brook Byers, John Doerr, Bruce Dunlevie, Wally Hawley, Vinod Khosla and Dave Stroh.

Dave has been called a "serial entrepreneur." He has served as founding CEO of Good Technology, co-founder of Drugstore.com, co-founding board member of Newschools Venture Fund, and general manager and president of Optical Engineering, Inc. Dave also worked at Netscape, Hewlett Packard and Bain. Dave's non-profit work includes serving on the boards of Newschools Venture Fund and Charter Cities.

GREG SANDS

Founder and Managing Partner
Costanoa Venture Capital

Professional/Education

Founder and Managing Partner Greg Sands brings 13 years as a successful investor at Sutter Hill Ventures where he was an early investor in important companies such as Merced Systems, QuinStreet, Feedburner, AllBusiness, Return Path, and Youku. His track record there shows the ability to identify and attract great entrepreneurs and to balance adding value and active company-building without "micro-managing."

Prior to Sutter Hill, Greg was the first hire at Netscape Communications after its founding engineering team. He was its first Product Manager, wrote the initial business plan, coined the name Netscape, and created the SuiteSpot Business Unit, which he grew from zero to $150m in revenue. He also served as Manager of Business Development at Cisco where he architected a global channel management plan. Most importantly, Greg has a long-standing love of entrepreneurs and start ups. He began investing in and advising starts ups in 1991 as a consultant at Corporate Decisions, Inc. (now Mercer Consulting) where he led case teams to write business plans and develop market entry strategies for technology companies.

While a student at Stanford Graduate School of Business, he co-founded a micro-enterprise program in East Palo Alto to help entrepreneurs with limited access to resources start businesses of their own. Costanoa is the embodiment of this lifelong passion, combining his dedication to helping entrepreneurs with the opportunity to build his own firm.

Greg has an MBA from Stanford Graduate School of Business and graduated from Harvard College Magna Cum Laude. He currently serves as President of the Stanford DAPER (Athletics Department) Investment Fund, is Former President of the Western Association of Venture Capitalists and served as a Trustee of the Stanford Business School Trust and Chair of its Venture Capital committee.

RUSS HALL

Managing Director
Legacy Venture

Professional

Russ Hall co-founded Legacy Venture in 1999, along with Jim Anderson. As a Managing Director, Russ helps shape the fund's strategy, manage its investments and tap the power of venture capital to help Legacy members amplify their positive impact in the world. He also serves on the board of the fund's philanthropic arm, Legacy Works, and was its founding chairman.

Russ was well prepared for the challenge. He had served as Vice President for R. Eliot King & Associates, a boutique money management firm; as Vice President of Marketing for the technology start-up Logic Modeling; as Director of Sales and a Marketing Manager at another start-up, Silicon Solutions; and as an associate at the venture capital firm Merrill Pickard Anderson & Eyre. Earlier in his career, he had worked as a consultant at the Boston Consulting Group, and as a captain in the Army Corps of Engineers.

In addition to his leadership at Legacy Venture and Legacy Works, Russ serves on the board of the Gathering and The Philanthropic Workshop West, two active networks of philanthropists who share skills, commitment, and imagination to help solve major social and environmental challenges. He also serves or has served as an elder at his church; on the board of the national ministry Time Out; as well as on the advisory board for the Full Circle Fund, Good Capital, Stanford's Center on Philanthropy and Civil Society (PACS), and the Global Philanthropy Forum. Russ is also a Senior Fellow of the American Leadership Forum of Silicon Valley and a member of the Donor Effectiveness Network.

Education/Personal

Russ earned an MBA from Stanford Graduate School of Business, an MS from the University of California at Berkeley, and a BS from the United States Military Academy at West Point. He and his wife, Debbie, have one daughter.

ANDY RAPPAPORT

Emeritus Partner
August Capital

Professional

Andy is a partner in the first five August Capital funds. Prior to the raising of August Capital VI in 2012, he decided to begin his retirement from the venture capital business. Although Andy maintains an active role in the management of our prior funds and with his portfolio companies, and remains an advisor to our new funds, he is no longer making new investments for the firm.

Prior to joining August Capital in 1996, Andy was involved in the formation and success of more than a dozen venture capital-backed start-ups, including Actel (ACTL), MMC Networks (Acquired by AMCC -- AMCC), Sequence Design Automation, Silicon Architects (acquired by Synopsys -- SNPS), Transmeta (TMTA), and Viewlogic (Acquired by Synopsys -- SNPS).

In addition, Andy was president of The Technology Research Group, a Boston-based strategy consulting firm he founded in 1984. Through this firm, he provided business-strategy counsel to senior executives at many of the largest electronics companies around the world, including Alcatel, AT&T, EDS, IBM, and Intel.

Before starting TRG, Andy was Senior Editor of EDN Magazine; a research physicist with Panametrics, Inc.; and founder and president of his own consumer-electronics company. He was also a founder of the Massachusetts Center for Technology Growth, a private economic-development organization; and a director of the Massachusetts Microelectronics Center.

Andy is an often-cited authority on changing technologies and markets and has written and lectured extensively on the evolving structures of semiconductor, computer, and telecommunications industries. He co-wrote "The Computerless Computer Company," which won the 1991 McKinsey award for Article of the Year in the Harvard Business Review. Andy attended Princeton University, but holds no degree.

With his wife, Deborah, Andy endowed and runs the Rappaport Family Foundation, which promotes civic engagement and social justice among the young and disenfranchised in the US. He is also an avid guitar player and fine-art photographer. His photography can be seen at www.bigmesastudios.com.

BRENT AHRENS

General Partner
Canaan Partners

Fellows Class 5

Professional

Brent joined Canaan in 1999 as a member of Fellows Class 5. Since joining the firm, he has led a number of successful investments in leading life sciences companies including DexCom (DXCM - IPO), Revivant (ZOLL - Acq.), Peninsula Pharmaceuticals (JNJ - Acq.), Cerexa (FRX - Acq.), Calixa (CBST - Acq.), Durata Therapeutics (DRTX - IPO), and Elevation Pharmaceuticals (DNPUF - Acq.). He also serves on the boards of a number of other companies including EndoGastric Solutions, Relievent Medsystems, MID Surgical, and Data Sciences International.

Prior to joining Canaan, Brent worked in both commercial and technical roles at General Surgical Innovations, Ethicon Endo-Surgery (J&J), and IAP Research

Education/Personal

Brent earned an MBA from the Tuck School of Business at Dartmouth College after graduating with BS and MS in Mechanical Engineering from the University of Dayton

Fellowship

A member of Class 5, Brent was mentored by Harry Rein at Canaan Partners. He served as a mentor to John Pacifico, a member of Class 12.

SUSAN MASON

General Partner
Aligned Partners

KFP Chairman Emeritus
Fellows Class 2, Mentor Class 15

Professional/Education

Susan Mason is a member of Kauffman Fellows Class 2 and served her fellowship under mentor Rob Kuhling at ONSET Ventures in Menlo Park, CA. She is a General Partner with Aligned Partners, a venture firm she co-founded with another Kauffman Fellow. Aligned Partners specializes in investments in highly capital efficient start-ups in the Information Technology area. Susan is focused on investing in early stage start-ups in the cloud and mobile computing domains.

Prior to co-founding Aligned Partners, Susan was with ONSET Ventures for 15 years and helped to raise 5 ONSET funds. She came to ONSET Ventures in 1996 after holding positions in high-tech engineering, marketing and business development.

Prior to joining ONSET, Susan led a successful consulting practice helping Fortune 100 corporations capitalize on emerging markets and technologies. Early in her career, she held positions in marketing and engineering design of high-performance systems and microprocessors for Fujitsu Microelectronics, Fairchild Semiconductor and NCR Microelectronics.

Susan received a BS in Electrical Engineering from the University of Colorado and her MBA from the University of California, Los Angeles. Susan is a founding board member and currently serves as Chairman Emeritus of the Center for Venture Education. She also serves on the Finance and Investment Committee for the Town of Los Altos Hills, CA.

LAURA BEREZIN

Partner
Hogan Lovells

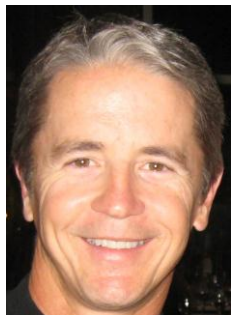

Professional/Education

Laura Berezin focuses on corporate securities, mergers and acquisitions, and complex corporate finance transactions, with a particular emphasis on representing clients in the life sciences industry. She represents public and private corporations, investment banks, venture capital funds, and financial institutions both in the United States and Europe in a variety of equity, debt and equity-linked transactions, including public offerings, private placements, PIPES and 144A transactions. Laura has extensive experience in representing life science companies in spin-outs and other domestic as well as cross border mergers and acquisitions. Her general corporate practice includes formation and financing activities, securities compliance, public company disclosure, and corporate governance matters. She also has extensive experience in counseling publicly-traded life sciences companies and their boards of directors.

Laura is listed in The Best Lawyers in America in the categories of Biotechnology Law and Securities Law and is recognized in PLC - Which Lawyer in the Equity Capital Markets and Corporate Life Sciences practice areas and in the Legal 500 US, Capital Markets for 2009-2010 and M&A: Large Deals ($1bn-5bn) for 2011. The Daily Journal named Laura as one of the Top 25 Biotech Lawyers in California for 2011.

Since 2006, Laura has been selected by Law and Politics Magazine as one of Northern California's Super Lawyers, a designation which ranks her in the top 5% of attorneys in Northern California. For 2004 and 2005, IPO Vital Signs ranked Laura among the top 10 lawyers in the nation representing investment banks in biotechnology initial public offerings.

Prior to joining Hogan Lovells US LLP, Laura was a partner in the business department of Cooley LLP, and co-head of the firm's investment banking practice group.

WILLIAM GERHART

Founder/CEO

Professional/Education

Mr. Gerhart is an experienced Founder/CEO with more than 25 years experience starting and building companies based on promising technologies. He was most recently the president & CEO of Elevation Pharmaceuticals, a San Diego-based biotech he founded in 2008 to develop new aerosol therapies for underserved patient populations with respiratory diseases.

At Elevation, Mr. Gerhart raised $44 million in venture capital in 2010/11, advanced a lead product candidate for COPD through Phase 2 studies, and sold the Company in Sept 2012 to a subsidiary of Daiippon Sumitomo Pharma (Sunovion) for $100m upfront plus up to $330 million in additional milestone payments.

Prior to Elevation, Mr. Gerhart was the President and CEO of Mpex Pharmaceuticals from 2002 to 2007, a company he founded to discover and develop new antibacterials for the treatment of serious infections, which was acquired by Aptalis in 2011. At Mpex, he in-licensed drug candidates from Daiichi Sankyo and a device platform from PARI GmbH to enable development of Aeroquin, an aerosol antibiotic candidate now completing Phase 3 studies.

Prior to Mpex, he was a founder and/or CEO of several other companies, including Medlyte Therapeutics (now publicly-held Lpath Therapeutics), Vaxiion Therapeutics (RNAi delivery), and Suddenly Smart, Inc. (eLearning software).

Mr. Gerhart is a member of World President's Organization, and he graduated from Baylor University with a BBA degree and from Harvard University with an MBA degree.

ROD FERGUSON

Managing Director
Panorama Capital

Mentor Class 15

Professional

Dr. Ferguson is a co-founder of Panorama Capital, a venture capital firm which spun off from JPMorgan Partners (JPMP) in July 2006, where he focuses primarily on life sciences investments. He joined JPMP as a Managing Director in their life sciences venture practice in 2001. From 1999 to 2001, Dr. Ferguson was a partner at InterWest Partners, a venture capital firm, where he focused on life sciences investments. Prior to InterWest, he held a variety of management positions over an 11-year career at Genentech, Inc., most recently as Senior Director of Business and Corporate Development responsible for worldwide licensing transactions for both technology and pharmaceutical products. Prior to joining Genentech, Inc. in 1988, Dr. Ferguson was an associate with the law firm McCutchen, Doyle, Brown, & Enersen (currently known as Bingham McCutchen LLP).

Dr. Ferguson serves on the technology advisory board of The Economist, a variety of advisory boards in the life sciences industry, and two non-profit boards. In addition, he serves on the board of directors of several private life science companies.

Education/Personal

Dr. Ferguson received a BS, with Honors, in biochemistry from the University of Illinois, a PhD in biochemistry from the State University of New York at Buffalo, and a JD, cum laude from Northwestern University.

FAYSAL SOHAIL

General Partner
CMEA

Professional

Faysal Sohail is a venture capitalist at CMEA Capital in San Francisco, CA. He joined the firm in 2002 as a General Partner, bringing with him more than a decade of senior executive experience in engineering, marketing, business development and building start ups. Since 2002, he has led venture capital funding to several key start ups in both the energy and technology sectors.

Before joining CMEA, Faysal helped to build three companies - Cadabra Design Automation (merged with Numerical Technologies), Silicon Architects (merged with Synopsys; SNPS) and Actel Corporation (ACTL) - which all became successful via either IPO or through merger or acquisition.

When he is not building companies, Faysal pursues a second passion - education, which he believes is the only true economic equalizer in the world. His work in education revolves around two specific goals: getting students in the developed world to college and students in the developing world to become computer literate.

Education/Personal

Faysal holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Computer Engineering from the University of Illinois (Urbana-Champaign), where he also served on the College of Engineering Advisory Board (CEAB). Faysal currently serves on the Advisory Board of IVIE (Illinois Venture Investors & Entrepreneurs Forum).

MATT MACINNIS

CEO
Inkling

Professional

Matt MacInnis is Inkling's Chief Executive Officer. He founded Inkling in 2009 on a mission to rethink the way people learn using technology, a journey that began with the textbook, but has led to much more. Today, Inkling is defining a new medium for publishers and consumers alike.

Before founding Inkling, Matt spent eight years at Apple, beginning in marketing, moving into product, and then running Apple's education market development team in Asia for over two years, based in Beijing. After helping to grow Apple's business in the region, Matt was called back to Apple's California headquarters to coordinate Apple's growth in education globally.

Education/Personal

A native of northeastern Canada, Matt earned a degree in Electrical Engineering with a Citation in Mandarin Chinese from Harvard University. Both Matt and Inkling are based in San Francisco.

KRISTIN McDONNELL

Strategy Consultant
Co-Founder & Former CEO, LimeLife

Professional

Kristin McDonnell is a leader in the digital media industry, forging innovations in social media, mobile software, games, and digital advertising over the past 20 years. During that time, she has been a management team member of six startups which collectively raised over $100 million of venture capital and realized over $1.5 billion in market value through two IPOs and five acquisitions by major media and advertising companies.

Drawing upon her significant experience in driving growth and innovation, Kristin works with public and private companies, incubators, and universities as an Advisor and Strategy Consultant. She is on the Board of Advisors for Northwestern University's Center for Entrepreneurship & Innovation and has served as a mentor to Stanford's Graduate School of Business, Northwestern's NUvention program, and many CEOs.

From 2004 to 2010, Kristin was the CEO, Chairman, and Co-Founder of LimeLife, the leading cross-platform digital media company for women, which was acquired by Total Beauty Media in August 2010. Prior to starting LimeLife, Kristin held senior management and marketing positions in several of the leading innovators in the digital media and IT industries including HearMe/Mpath (IPO, division sold to GameSpy/NewsCorp), Xfire (sold to MTV), There.com, AT&T's ImagiNation Network (sold to AOL), Electronic Arts, and Lante Corporation (IPO, acquired by Razorfish). Earlier, Kristin was a consultant with McKinsey & Company in New York City and a marketing associate with IBM.

Education/Personal

Kristin earned a Bachelor of Science degree in Industrial engineering with a concentration in Computer Science with Tau Beta Pi academic honors from Northwestern University and an MBA from Harvard Business School.

SETH STERNBERG

CEO & Founder
Meebo

Professional

Seth is founder and CEO of Meebo. Prior to Meebo Seth worked for three years at IBM in Corporate Development leading M&A transactions and working on strategy and venture capital initiatives.

Seth then left for Stanford Business School. After a summer internship at private equity group Warburg Pincus, he co-founded a startup with two friends. Meebo, a website for instant messaging, grew rapidly and Seth chose to put Stanford on hold to pursue the venture. Seth led the initial capital raise of $3.5 million from Sequoia Capital. Meebo continues to grow and serves 6 million people monthly, having raised an additional $9 million in funding from Draper Fisher Jurvetson.

Education/Personal

Seth majored in political science at Yale, and is a graduate of Stanford Business School. Seth flies airplanes, rides motorcycles, and rollerblades.

KEN SONG
CEO
Ariosa Diagnostics

Professional

Ken Song brought together the initial team for Ariosa Diagnostics and has served as CEO since 2009. Prior to Ariosa, Ken was an investor at Venrock and led multiple investments in healthcare companies. Ken is a board certified physician, has extensive clinical and basic science research experience, and was previously a consultant at McKinsey & Company.

Education/Personal

Ken received his BS in biology from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and his MD from the University of California, San Francisco.

CLINT KORVER
Co-Founder
Ulu Ventures

Fellows Class 14

Professional

Clint is a co-founder and partner at Ulu Ventures, an early stage IT venture firm in Silicon Valley. He focuses on startups in technology-enabled services, education technology, and predictive analytics and has made over 40 investments in the last five years.

Clint is the Director of the Kauffman Fellows Academy, a for profit partner of the Kauffman Fellows Program creating online training programs in capital formation. The goal is to leverage KFP IP to empower millions of innovators worldwide and fund KFP scholarships.

Clint teaches a graduate level entrepreneurship course in the School of Engineering at Stanford University; mentors at StartX, the Stanford student run accelerator; and co-leads Stanford Angels & Entrepreneurs, an official Alumni Association group connecting investors and entrepreneurs in Stanford's entrepreneurial ecosystem.

Prior to becoming a venture investor, he founded and led two technology companies, a training company, and a consulting company all of which provided tools or services to help individuals and organizations make better decisions. He holds multiple patents in web-based decision analytics, taught ethical decision-making at both Stanford University and Grinnell College, and co-authored Ethics for the Real World (Harvard Business Press 2008).

Education/Personal

Clint holds a PhD and an MS in Engineering-Economic Systems from Stanford University, and a BA, with Honors, in mathematics from Grinnell College where he serves as Chair of the Board of Trustees.

Fellowship

Clint was a member of Kauffman Fellows Class 14 and served his fellowship at Crescendo Ventures under the mentorship of David Spreng.

ROB NAIL

Associate Founder & CEO
Singularity University

Professional/Education

Rob is the CEO and Associate founder of Singularity University. When not cheerleading for the university, he is building new forums to catch and propel the amazing ideas and people that come out of it.

If he's not doing that, he's riding something, building something, starting something, funding something, or advising something.

Prior to Singularity, he co-founded Velocity11 in 1999, building automation equipment and robotics for cancer research and drug discovery. After being acquired by Agilent Technologies in 2007, he traded the CEO role for a General Manager role attempting to be a catalyst for change at a big company. He gave up in 2009 to go surfing. He is also a co-founder of Alite Designs, is an active angel investor, and holds degrees in Mechanical, Materials Science and Manufacturing Engineering from UC Davis and Stanford University.

PAUL SAFFO

Chair, Future Studies & Forecasting
Singularity University

Professional/Education

Paul is a forecaster with over two decades experience helping corporate and governmental clients understand and respond to the dynamics of large-scale, long-term change. He is Managing Director of Foresight at Discern Analytics and he teaches at Stanford where he is a Consulting Associate Professor in the Engineering School. A Fellow of the Royal Swedish Academy of Engineering Sciences, Paul served on the US National Academies Committee on Forecasting Disruptive Technologies. Paul holds degrees from Harvard College, Cambridge University, and Stanford Law School.

DANIEL KRAFT, MD

Medicine & Neuroscience Chair
Singularity University

Fellows Class 13

Professional/Education

Daniel Kraft is a Stanford and Harvard trained physician-scientist, inventor, entrepreneur and innovator.

Dr. Kraft has over 20 years of experience in clinical practice, biomedical research and healthcare innovation. Daniel chairs the Medicine track for Singularity University and is Executive Director for FutureMed, a program which explores convergent, exponentially developing technologies and their potential in biomedicine and healthcare.

Following undergraduate degrees at Brown and medical school at Stanford, Dr. Kraft was board certified in the Harvard combined Internal Medicine and Pediatrics residency program at the Massachusetts General and Boston Children's Hospital, and completed Stanford fellowships in hematology/oncology & bone marrow transplantation, and extensive research in stem cell biology and regenerative medicine. He has multiple scientific publications (including in Nature and Science), medical device, immunology and stem cell related patents through faculty positions with Stanford University School of Medicine and as clinical faculty for the pediatric bone marrow transplantation service at UCSF.

Dr. Kraft recently founded IntelliMedicine, focused on enabling connected, data driven, and integrated personalized medicine. He is also the inventor of the MarrowMiner, an FDA approved device for the minimally invasive harvest of bone marrow, and founded RegenMed Systems, a company developing technologies to enable adult stem cell based regenerative therapies.

Daniel is an avid pilot and serves in the California Air National guard as an officer and flight surgeon with an F-16 fighter Squadron. He has conducted research on aerospace medicine that was published with NASA, with whom he was a finalist for astronaut selection.

Fellowship

Daniel Kraft is a member of Kauffman Fellows Class 13 and served his fellowship under mentor Gregory Bonfiglio at Proteus Venture Partners.

MARC GOODMAN

Chair for Policy, Law and Ethics, and
Global Security Advisor
Singularity University

Professional/Education

Marc Goodman is an internationally acclaimed expert on the unanticipated influences technology wreaks on security, business and international affairs. With over twenty years of global experience in cyber crime, cyber terrorism and information warfare, he has worked with INTERPOL, the United Nations, NATO, the U.S. Government and the Los Angeles Police Department. He is frequently sought after by global policy makers, corporate leaders, and security executives on technology related security threats. Marc provides audiences a front seat view into the digital underground on emerging technology, geopolitical, and security trends that will drastically redefine the markets in which they operate.

Founder of the Future Crimes Institute, Marc's current areas of research spotlight the security implications of disruptive technologies: artificial intelligence, the social data revolution, synthetic biology, virtual worlds, robotics, ubiquitous computing and location-based services. Marc serves as the faculty advisor for global security at Silicon Valley's Singularity University, a NASA and Google sponsored venture dedicated to using advanced science and technology to address humanity's grand challenges. In addition, he advises NATO as a subject matter expert on Critical Cyber Infrastructure Protection and the UN Counterterrorism Task Force on terrorist use of the Internet.

Marc began his career in Los Angeles as a street police officer with assignments in patrol, undercover operations, and investigations. With the LAPD, Marc received numerous awards, including the City's highest possible unit citation for his pioneering work in high-tech policing. While there, Marc founded the LAPD's Internet unit to deal with the emerging impact of technology on crime and criminality. For more than a decade, Marc worked with INTERPOL, the International Criminal Police Organization, having chaired numerous INTERPOL expert groups on emerging security threats. In that capacity, Marc trained police and security forces throughout the Middle East, Africa, Europe, Latin America and Asia and has worked in 70 countries around the world.

Marc holds both a Master of Public Administration from Harvard University's John F. Kennedy School of Government and a Master of Science in Management of Information Systems from the London School of Economics & Political Science.

WARD ASHMAN

Founder and Partner
Trimergence, LLC

Professional

Ward Ashman is Founder and Partner of Trimergence, LLC, and creator of the Trimergence System. This patented system provides a coordinated matrix of self-insight and interpersonal tools that enable corporations, teams and top leaders to build collaborative, creative partnerships based on the foundation of mutually evolving trust.

IAN SCHMIDT

Managing Partner
Trimergence, LLC

Professional/Education

Ian Schmidt is the Managing Partner of Trimergence, LLC. Ian's focus is on creating breakthroughs in awareness to drive individual and team peak performance. Ian leverages over a decade of corporate experience in addition to his extensive training in the area of executive development. He holds a Master's degree from Harvard University, as well as international study, leadership research and teaching experience in Germany, Austria, and Japan.

AMY HUANG

Senior Consultant
Trimergence, LLC

Professional/Education

Amy Huang, PhD is the Senior Consultant at Trimergence, LLC., with over 15 years of experience in personality assessment, transforming organizational dynamics, and cross-cultural psychology. Amy obtained her PhD in clinical psychology from Alliant University, and has wide-ranging experience training and developing future leaders across a broad spectrum of industries. Her key focus is enhancing self-insight and self-leadership as critical factors for overall business success.

BILL TOBIN

Partner
Strayer Consulting Group

Professional

Bill Tobin is a partner at the Strayer Consulting Group, an organization development firm specializing in helping technology companies build strong management teams. Headquartered in Silicon Valley for twenty years, SCG has worked with hundreds of start-ups, 150 public companies and has been affiliated with more than 30 venture groups as special limited partner or professional advisor.

At the Center for Venture Education, Bill oversees the flow of each module of the Kauffman Fellows' curriculum, working closely with the CVE team, faculty, and deans to assure that the material the fellows experience is always challenging, well-conceived, and grounded in the realities and possibilities of the venture industry.

Bill brings 25 years of consulting and high technology experience to his work, from PricewaterhouseCoopers (PwC), public companies such as Sun Microsystems, Intel, Ampex, RasterOps, and 3DO, and as a founding executive and board member at startups DotRocket and MediaFlex. Bill is an experienced business consultant and coach who offers his clients hard-won technical and organizational insights. He specializes in guiding companies that are navigating through strategic or operational growth opportunities or that are seeking out integrated, cross-functional problem-solving approaches in their business.

Education/Personal

Bill has an undergraduate engineering degree from Drexel University and has completed post-graduate engineering and business studies at Stanford University and the University of California. He is an advisor and former chairman of the MIT/Stanford Venture Lab, an advisor at the Entrepreneurs Foundation and the Software Development Forum, and is active in a variety of Bay Area organizations that work with entrepreneurs and early stage companies.

Bill loves getting outside to run, mountain bike, and ski and in his copious spare time enjoys books, music, food and wine. A Philadelphia native, he now lives in San Jose, CA with his wife and his two daughters are away at college.

PHIL WICKHAM

President & CEO
Center for Venture Education

Fellows Charter Class

Professional

Phil serves as the President and CEO of the Center for Venture Education in Palo Alto, CA. The mission of the Kauffman Fellows Program is to develop the next generation of leaders in venture capital. Success for Phil means that entrepreneurs are building more enduring companies and investors are achieving superior returns. Overseeing all aspects of the CVE, Phil continues to push the program's international expansion. He also has a special passion for venture capital's opportunities globally in helping to meet societal needs.

Phil is a veteran venture investor and startup entrepreneur. Early in his career Phil co-founded the publishing company Reference Media in Tokyo, Japan, grew it to scale and sold it to the Princeton Review, where he became VP of Sales for Japan and Korea. Later, Phil served as General Partner at JAFCO America Ventures, a billion-dollar fund backed by leading Japanese financial and technology players such as Hitachi, Mitsubishi, NEC, Itochu, Nomura, and Nippon Life Insurance. Phil went on to become a partner and run US operations for Copan, a European venture fund based in Munich, Germany, where Phil also served on the Board. He has shepherded more than 30 investments, including Ikanos, Web Methods, Com21, and Emergent. Phil currently serves on the board of S2 Technologies, Trilibis, and Silicon Valley Association of Startup Entrepreneurs (SVASE), and is an advisor to the Creandum fund in Stockholm.

Education/Personal

Phil holds a BS from the Aerospace Mechanical Engineering School at the University of Arizona, and an MBA from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute. When not working--or playing hockey--Phil can be found in Los Gatos with his wife and two daughters.

Fellowship

A Charter Class member of the Kauffman Fellows Program, Phil served his fellowship at OneLiberty/Flagship Ventures in Boston with mentor Ed Kania.

Phil was a CVE founding board member and serves on the board as CEO.