

Healthcare Growth Equity Associate
Philadelphia, PA

Responsibilities include but are not limited to:

- Sourcing and review of fund investment opportunities and tracking of internal deal flow
- Participation in the due diligence and investment approval process, including preparing due diligence requests, on-site travel, data analysis, financial modeling, and reference / research calls
- Ongoing portfolio management responsibilities across companies
- Maintain up-to-date knowledge on the healthcare growth equity investment environment and industry landscape

Desired Skills and Experience: The target candidate has 2 - 4 years in healthcare experience from a top investment bank or top-tier management consulting firm. Successful candidates will have the following qualities:

- Corporate finance and valuation knowledge and the ability to understand the key drivers of portfolio company performance and fund level returns
- Strong writing skills and experience authoring investment proposals or similar recommendations
- Superior financial modeling capability with high attention to detail
- Sense of ownership of work product and the ability to handle several projects simultaneously and prioritize work based on deadlines
- Ability to communicate across multiple levels of seniority, both internally and externally, with a high level of general partner interaction
- Ability to draw specific conclusions about individual fund investment opportunities using both quantitative and qualitative data points

Interested candidates should send a resume and cover letter to Ian Li at ian.li@1315capital.com.